HOUSE VOTE FOR ARMY OF 150,000

$29,000,000 Provided In The Army Measure

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 8.—The army appropriation bill carrying approximately $29,000,000 and providing for a force of only 150,000 in 1922 was passed today by the house and sent to the senate.

The measure was passed practically unanimously after the appropriations committee. A move to cut the number of officers from 13,000 to 9,000 was defeated by a vote of 271 to 58.

The house also refused by a vote of 110 to 110 to insert a specific provision that the army be reduced to 100,000 men during the year, but the measure appropriated for enlisted men is sufficient only for a force of 150,000.

Under a measure finally passed yesterday by the senate over President Coolidge's veto, recruiting must be stopped immediately until the present force is reduced to 175,000 men and other reductions next year will be necessary if the senate approves the provision of the appropriation bill setting aside money for the pay of enlisted men.

THE DALLES, OREGON, February 8.—George F. West, charged with having slain his wife, near here, three months ago, has completed his forty-eighth day without food, according to physicians at the hospital where he has lain since an attempt to take his own life by drinking acid. The doctors also said that West had not taken more than two quarts of water in all during his fast, as he is so badly burned internally that he can not swallow anything.

Treatment For Tuberculosis Proves Success

PARIS, February 8.—After a lapse of about seven years, Professor D'Arsonval, member of the institute of the academy of medicine, has presented a report to the French academy of sciences on the curative treatment of tuberculosis by a new method discovered by the Swiss bacteriologist, Henry P. Pabinger. The method was first applied in 1913 and 1914, in hospitals in England, France and Switzerland.

Since that time patients, who were pronounced cured, have been kept under observation. All of them are declared to be alive and in good health, and they have shown no symptoms of a relapse for the last six years, although they underwent no further antitubercular treatment of any sort.

The treatment takes the form of injections of anti-toxins and vaccines, which are modified according to the condition of the patient.

MADDOO AND COX FORCES BATTLE TO CONTROL THE NATIONAL COMMITTEE

BY DAVID LAWRENCE (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—Back of the scenes, the battle for control of the Democratic National Committee is being waged. The committee to be held at once is a story of politics that shows how ephemeral the followers of James M. Cox of Ohio or William Gibbs McAdoo of New York regard the factors which brought about the overwhelming defeat of Democrat last autumn.

So intense is the struggle for control of the Democratic committee on the part of both McAdoo and Cox that the committee is being held in a convention which will be held in the city of New York in the near future. Miners' Officials Arrested For Calling Strike

PITTSBURGH, KANSAS, February 8.—Alexander M. Howat, president of the Kansas miners, and five members of the union's district executive board were under orders to appear in District Judge Andrew Curran's court here today and answer charges of violating an injunction forbidding them to call strikes in the coal fields of this state.

The men were arrested late yesterday and released under $500 bond.

Although no official announcement had been made, it was understood the defendants were planning to ask a continuance on the ground that they were required further time to perfect their written answer to the charges.

DRUG DENS, MOONSHINE STILL RAIDED IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, February 8.—In a series of raids, conducted early today and during the night in the Mulberry Bend district, stirring Chinatown, police and federal officers seized narcotics valued at $135,000, destroyed a moonshine still they found in operation and arrested 17 men.

One raiding party fought its way through a narrow passageway in Hester street and after a struggle lasting half an hour, took four men in custody. In one room they found four demijohns of moonshine whiskey and a still at work. A further search of the quarters revealed a hidden door, which they battered down.

Behind the wall, the police said, seven men were lying in bunks. The room was murky with opium fumes, they said. The raiding party found drugs they valued at $40,000 and several opium pipes.

Federal operatives found $80,000 in drugs secreted beneath handstones in an old cemetery in Second street yesterday, and placed two men under arrest charged with violation of the federal drug laws. In later raids four arrests were made and additional drugs were found.

Mlle. Agnes Souret, proclaimed the most beautiful woman in France.

When on the street she wears great smoke-colored goggles in order not to be recognized, for usually great crowds gather wherever she is seen. Mlle. Souret was only a middle class girl, living quietly with her parents in Biarritz, when she was proclaimed a French beauty.

SECESSION OF STATE BY BALLOT IS AT STAKE

LONDON, February 8.—No less vital issue than the secession of an important state of the British empire by ballot arises in the election today of a new legislative assembly in the union of South Africa. In England it is considered that few more important elections have taken place in a British dominion.

Broadly the question is whether South Africa, comprising the provinces of the Cape of Good Hope, Natal, Transvaal and Orange free state, shall continue its allegiance to the king of England as one of the self-governing dominions of the empire, or whether the South African union shall set up as an independent republic.

JOHN HAYS HAMMOND TIPPED FOR NEW CABINET

BY ROBERT T. SMALL (Copyright, 1921, by Times Pub. Co.)

T. AUGUSTINE, Fla., Feb. 7.—There is good reason to believe that the movement now on foot to make John Hays Hammond Secretary of Commerce in the Harding cabinet may succeed. The President-elect seriously is considering the matter and hundreds of telegrams have poured in upon him suggesting the advisability of the appointment. There is some question as to whether Mr. Hammond would accept a cabinet position, but his friends believe he might be induced to do so.

If Mr. Hammond should be appointed he undoubtedly would be credited to the District of Columbia—one of the few residents of that city who have ever attained such rank. Mr. Hammond, of course, has a home in Gloucester, Mass., and that probably is his official residence, but he spends most of his time in his paternal home in Washington overlooking Rock Creek. Massachusetts is to be honored by the appointment of John W. Weeks, as Secretary of War, and so Mr. Hammond, if he enters the cabinet, will be recorded from the district.

LABOR LEADER GETS A PEN SENTENCE

Ruler Of Mardigras Uses Seaplane

NEW ORLEANS, La., February 8.—Through streets decorated with banners and bunting, Rex, ruler of Mardigras, rode with his queen today, the parade bringing to a climax the public festivities incident to the annual carnival celebrations.

Rex, more modern than usual, arrived at the royal reception rooms from a seaplane, the usual trip up the river having been done away with.

The streets from early morning have been gay with maskers.

Building Trust Probe Led To Conviction

NEW YORK, February 8.—Robert P. Brindell, president of the building trades council, convicted of extortion from builders, was sentenced today by Supreme Court Justice McVoy, to serve from five to ten years in state's prison.

Counsel for the labor leader announced that an appeal will be taken from the conviction and the case will be taken to the United States supreme court, if necessary.

Brindell, who is one of the highest paid labor leaders in the United States, was convicted on evidence uncontradicted by the joint legislative committee investigating the "building trust."

Woman, 50, Starts Her Sentence For Running A Still

ATLANTA, GA., February 8.—Mrs. Sarah Glass, 50 years old, from the mountains of Pickens county, Georgia, today began serving a thirty day sentence for operation of an illicit still, and, according to prohibition officers, after serving her sentence will return to be tried in the state court for killing the man who told on her.

Clad in a gingham dress topped by a gray shawl, the sturdy little woman gazed defiantly at the "revenuers" who testified at her trial and when the verdict was read her only comment was: "They didn't tell the truth."

The man she is charged with having killed, according to common belief, was a man named Samuel Undermyer, chief counsel for the prosecution, and there was a storm of hisses.

The labor leader, who was kept moving lively by the court officers, appeared to pay little attention to the shouts and the scores of hands extended to him through the iron grates work protecting the prison corridor.

Difficulty In Obtaining Jury To Try M'Gannon

CLEVELAND, O., February 8.—Difficulty in obtaining a jury to try William H. McGannon, chief justice of municipal court, for the second time on a charge of second degree murder for the alleged shooting of Harold C. Kagy, was anticipated today. Five tentative jurors, including one woman, were in the box when court opened.

Seventeen prospective jurors were dismissed yesterday because they declared they had formed opinions from reading newspaper accounts of the previous trial of the jurist, which resulted in a disagreement, and this would prevent them from giving the case impartial consideration. Two others were excused because of lack of education.

The venireman who declared it as his opinion that there had been perjury on the part of witnesses on both sides, at the first trial, said that he would judge the testimony of the same witnesses in the light of the opinion.

It was believed the jury would not be completed for several days.

$85,000,000 INVOLVED IN FINANCIAL READJUSTMENT OF GOODYEAR TIRE FIRM

NEW YORK, February 8.—Plans for readjustment of the financial affairs of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company include issuance of a prior preference stock, sinking fund debentures and mortgages totalling $85,000,000, counsel for the company announced here today.

The plan, which has been under consideration for several weeks, will be carried out under supervision of a bank creditor's committee. An indication that an agreement had been reached was given yesterday in various financial quarters.

The prior preference stock to be issued will amount to $25,000,000, counsel stated, and two mortgages, each of $25,000,000, will be negotiated to pay off bank debts. The mortgages will bear interest at 8 percent and will be of 10 and 20 years duration, respectively. Counsel expressed the opinion that the plan would work out for the benefit of both company and creditors and would put the former on a firm foundation for future operations.

The creditor's committee named to put the plan into operation included: Robert C. Schaffner, Ralph Van Vleet, John Sherwin, W. E. Bruyn, F. L. Jenckes, Myron C. Taylor, G. W. Crouse, R. E. Field, Charles A. Morris, A. H. Seaville, J. H. Smith, F. S. Barton, C. H. Rayen, R. L. Robinson and F. A. Seiberling.

CAR PUT UNDER HEAVY GUARD, JEERED BY LARGE CROWD

ALBANY, N. Y., February 8.—Heavily guarded by mounted police and patrolmen in automobiles, the first car to be operated by the United Traffic Company since its employees went on strike January 29, left the North Albany car barns at 7:20 this morning amid a crowd of jeering men. After the car had proceeded a short distance down Broadway toward the business section, a rock was hurled at it but missed its mark.

The car, manned by strike breakers, was nearly filled with company guards. Its windows were screened, and before it started, automobile loads of private guards were sent out on foot at various corners. Following the car and the police guard were several automobiles filled with newspaper reporters, photographers and moving picture operators. Mounted police cleared the way when the crowd, swarming about the car, blocked the tracks.

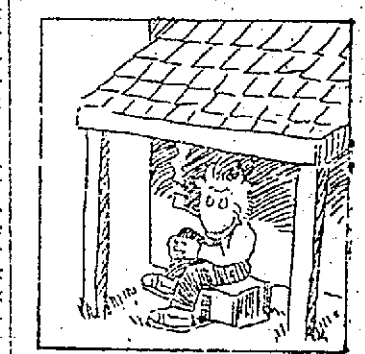

Word from Troy indicated that the first car which left the barn there had proceeded only a short distance when forced to stop, because of a trolley wire being down. The 1,200 employees on the company's lines here and in Troy and other nearby cities are striking against a reduction in wages.

The reserved seat sale for "Oh My Omar" to be presented in the high school auditorium Friday night by the Starlet Mask Club of Ohio State University, opened with a big rush at the Chamber of Commerce offices this Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. Within a half hour after the seat sale opened more than 250 tickets had been reserved.

There are still many good seats left and all who intend to attend the musical comedy put on by a splendid male cast should get their tickets early for at the rate the seat sale started today the entire house will be sold out by Friday night.

The reserved seat sale today was much better than anticipated by the Legion Committee in charge of the entertainment. Downstairs tickets and the first two rows in the balcony are $1.50 and the remainder of the balcony is $1. no war tax to be paid.

Tickets are on sale at the Classic, Snook House, Geo. Almond's, Flood and Blake's and Presser's.

The musical comedy entertainment is to be given under the auspices of James Dickey Post, American Legion.

A recent Columbus review of the show is as follows:

"The whole performance, music, dancing, lines, was conceived and carried out in the spirit of wholesome, clean fun, and won its favor with the audiences on that score entirely.

"You will not find better dancers with any college club in the country than the Musk-hus in Mr. Reisinger and in Messrs. Lea and Linxweller, the Dancing Twins. The audiences had not nearly enough of their work. And you will listen to no more pleasing music than Mr. Elder and his associates supplied to carry the songs and dances. Put this music up alongside that of any of the musical plays given in Columbus this year and see what you think of the comparison. It is a remarkable show that gives you three effective and memorable melodies, as does "O My Omar."

Ohio State's famous athletes "Chic" Harley, "Pete" Stinchcomb and Harry Stark are in the cast which numbers close to 70 students.

GIVE OUT ESTIMATES ON NEW DEPOT

Estimate of approximate cost of the proposed N. and W. passenger station for Portsmouth is $1,400,000, this figure being given in a letter sent to the Chamber of Commerce Railroad Committee by President N. D. Maher of the Norfolk and Western.

This estimate is for the building proper and entrances, including interlocking, grade crossings, concrete viaduct, second track, necessary platforms, shelter sheds and roadway approaches. Thirty-five percent of the cost of tunneling and viaducts is to be borne by the city and this is estimated at $200,000.

This leaves the railroad's share at $1,200,000.

The letter carrying these figures was read at the weekly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce directors Tuesday noon. The estimate was recently asked for by the Railway Committee of the city.

Directors also authorized the appointment of a Retailers' Committee, New Cemetery Committee, City Finance Committee, Sanitation Committee and New Hotel Committee.

The Cooperative Purchasing Committee of the Scioto Valley Farm Bureau met Monday afternoon in this city and considered prices of fertilizer. The Committee had several prices submitted on fertilizer but also had word that there all likely be another decline in price and decided to wait until later to bid. The Committee will meet again Feb. 15 to place the order. In the meantime any farmer wishing to buy through the Farm Bureau should place his order with one of the Committee members of the following farmers: J. Schuler, Haverrill, E. W. Bauer, South Webster, Orel Dever, Minford, J. H. Jones, Otway, Joseph Frische, Weathersburg, J. A. Johnson, Portsmouth, Dan Oaker, Pine Creek, Orin Veach, Duena Vista, C. M. WOMAN SWALLOWS IODINE

Family troubles was the motive assigned for Est. Wallace, aged 30, wife of Otis Wallace, molder employed at the Ohio Store foundry, when shortly after one o'clock Tuesday she swallowed a quantity of tincture of iodine at her home on Twentieth street, near Grandview avenue.

The woman was at her home with her three young children when she committed the act and the oldest child gave the alarm, notifying neighbors who rushed in and found her writhing in agony.

Dr. Walter Braunlin responded to a hurry call and he used a stomach pump with good effect and removed much of the poison although the woman still is suffering intense pains from the effects of the fiery fluid but it was stated she will probably recover.

On Trail Of Other Suspects

There were no new developments Tuesday in the Clay Mitchell moonshining case, but Sheriff E. E. Kickey and other officers were camping on the trail of other suspects during the day and other arrests are expected soon.

Clyde Evans, young man partner of Mitchell, and the latter's wife are still detained at the county jail for investigation. Mitchell's automobile which was seized by the officers, together with two stills and several gallons of liquor, which was dug out of the ground, where it had been buried, are held by the sheriff.

Don't Go From Bad to Worse

Cold and gripes leave thousands with weak kidneys and aching backs. The kidneys have to do most of the work of fighting off any germ disease. They weaken slowly. Then you will feel dull, irritable or nervous, and will have headaches, dizziness, backache, sore joints and irregular kidney action. Give the kidneys quick help and avoid serious kidney troubles. Use Doan's Kidney Pills. They are recommended the world over. Ask your neighbor.

Follow This Portsmouth Example

Mrs. F. N. Patterson, 26 Jefferson St., says: "I caught a cold and it settled on my kidneys. I had a dull ache in my back and after doing a day's work, I felt stiff and lame. My kidneys acted irregularly. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills recommended and gave them a trial. One box did the work and I felt better in every way."

House Vote

In overruling the presidential veto. The vote in the senate was 67 to 1. Senator Kirby, Democrat of Arkansas, casting the only opposing vote. Without awaiting official notification of the senate's action, Secretary Baker last night ordered every army recruiting station in the country to close down on enlistments.

Army officers estimated today that it would take nine months or until next November 1, to reduce the present enlisted strength of approximately 213,000 to the required 175,000. Enactment of the army appropriation bill now pending in the house, which provides for an army of only 150,000 men after July 1, would necessitate a longer period of reduction to reach that figure. The measure has been regarded as practically certain of passage by the house, which was expected to take a final vote on it today.

Important Meeting

An important meeting of all American Legion members who held tickets for the "Oh My Omar" show and members of the Shoe Committee will be held tonight at the Legion club rooms at 7:30 o'clock. Officers for Friday night will also be selected.

Say They Want A Y. W. C. A.

Girls of Present Y. W. Tell of Their Advantages

Last week the newly elected directors of the Y. W. C. A. issued a challenge to the public as to whether or not Portsmouth wanted a Y. W. C. A. Several replies to this challenge are given below, the replies setting forth clearly the fact that such an institution is wanted. The answers are from the young women of the Y. W. C. A., the Ministerial Association, girls of the Selby Shoe Company and Attorney T. C. Deatty, and are as follows:

WHY WE WANT THE Y. W. C. A. TO REMAIN IN PORTSMOUTH

We, the girls of the Y. W. C. A., come to you to express our reasons why we want the Y. W. C. A. to remain in Portsmouth.

It is a shelter for the strange girl who comes in from surrounding towns and vicinities seeking work.

We girls living in the home now agree that it is the most homelike place outside of our parental homes. In many cases, it is the only home that some of us girls have.

We have great advantages that we have in our own homes—a large living room, where the whole family can gather together after our day's work and enjoy a short devotional exercise and afterwards games and music.

We also have the use of a parlor, a sewing room and laundry privileges.

In many boarding houses, if taken ill, we would be taken to the hospital, but in our home, a doctor is called and we are taken care of.

It affords similar opportunities to that of a college dormitory in the association of young women from many different places.

The Cafeteria, serving good, clean and wholesome food, is one of the most appreciated advantages of our home. We are sure that the public will agree with us in this.

We heartily agree with the plan proposed by the field committee and hope that a realization of it will not be far in the future.

The above is a unanimous voice of the house girls.

Signed: IRENE WARNEKE, Chairman Committee.

Be It Resolved: That the Ministerial Association of Portsmouth, Ohio, approve of a Y. W. C. A. for the city, with a strongly Christian social and recreational program.

H. A. WRIGHT, Sec'y Portsmouth Ministerial Association.

P. C. WOLF, Vice-President.

We girls heartily endorse the Y. W. C. A. and desire to see its good work remain in Portsmouth. We are particularly interested in the following recreations that a Y. W. C. A. might offer: Swimming, gymnastics, of all kinds in a complete gymnasium, dress-making, millinery, classes in English, woman sewing, Bible study, cooking.

GIRLS AT SELBY'S SHOE CO.

Board of Directors:

I notice your stirring appeal for help for the Y. W. C. A. and I am enclosing you my check as my little mite in this worthy cause.

This is an institution in this city that should be upheld by every one of us.

I feel that the Y. W. C. A. is a God-send to this community and that the young women are doing a splendid work in their efforts to maintain it. If I can assist you in anyway I will gladly do so.

Very Truly Yours,
THOS. C. BEATTY.

A Prominent Nurse Testifies

Dayton, Ohio.—"During pregnancy I had a severe nervous breakdown. My back ached. I suffered with nausea and bowel trouble. I took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and it completely restored me to health. I had comparatively no suffering and my baby was very strong and healthy. I can recommend Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription as being the best medicine the expectant mother can take to keep her strong and healthy at this time. I always advise its use."

the blood. There are more of such men and women today than at any other period in the last thirty years.

There has come into prominence a prescription used by a leading Ohio physician that is certainly one of the most timely events in recent years. It is called Reels, and it hits these nerveless, bloodless cases exactly.

In one of the prominent drug stores it has completely superseded all other tonics. The clerks see its marvelous benefits daily. Men and women who have come in sick, unhappy, discouraged and dejected, and again seen in a week or a month after using Reels are not the same people either in appearance or action. They have gained flesh and strength; their blood is rich and red; they walk and talk with animation; there is a tinge of color in the cheeks; a snap to the eye that shows the vital processes have been enhanced to their full, natural activity. Ask any clerk at The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy or any leading drug store about Reels. They will recommend it as the greatest restorative medicine that ever went over their counters. Get a box today and prove it in your own case.

Grammatical Controversy.

The controversy as to the propriety of using "It is me" instead of "It is I" is several centuries old. It arose from the fact that from the earliest times there was in use in the languages of Europe two sounds that served to indicate the person speaking. In English they appear as "I" and "me," the older form of "I" being "ic." In the vernacular of England both forms of the phrase are used, but "It is me" finds greater favor, if one may take literature as indicating preference. Notwithstanding the fact, the grammarians have arrayed themselves against it. Considered etymologically, the correct form is "It is I," and this is the way in which the phrase was used by Chaucer in "The Knight's Tale" lines 1463 and 1733—Literary Digest.

Liquid Soap for Cleaning Carpet. Take two bars of white soap chopped fine and melted in one quart of hot water. When almost cold, add a teaspoonful of ammonia. When ready to wash or scrub the carpet, put a little water into the mixture. Keep it well worked and add half a cupful of the mixture to a large pailful of tepid water. It makes a powerful lather. Wipe the carpet off with clean water.

A RAW, SORE THROAT

Eases Quickly When You Apply a Little Musterole.

And Musterole won't blister like the old-fashioned mustard plaster. Just spread it on with your fingers. It penetrates to the sore spot with a gentle tingle, loosens the congestion and draws out the soreness and pain. Musterole is a clean, white ointment made with oil of mustard. It is fine for quick relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frost-bitten feet, colds on the chest. It is a man who can "come back" that is a man worth while

IT IS SAID THAT ABOUT NINETY PER CENT OF MEN FAIL BETWEEN THE AGES OF 35 AND 50 AND VERY FEW EVER "COME BACK"

A good reason for many of these failures is plain. As man approaches middle age THE IRON IN HIS BLOOD IS APT TO THIN OUT and he then lacks the necessary iron in his body to give him the force, strength and vitality; the "IRON-WILL" and "iron determination" to carry him on to success. In his own mind HE ALWAYS THINKS HE IS GOING TO "COME BACK," but he is like a crippled deer that rises up on its four legs after being shot, only to fall back again.

EVERY DOCTOR knows the tremendous power of an IRON WILL to put a patient through a critical illness. With an iron will, it often seems that nothing can kill you. Without it, a patient sometimes speedily collapses and dies from an apparently trivial cause.

Lack of iron in your blood not only undermines your health and robs you of your bodily and mental vigor but it weakens your WILL. POWER WITHOUT IRON. ALL THE "FIGHT," COURAGE and "GO AHEAD" in you is taken out and you begin to think it is "all over"—there's nothing more for you in life.

WITHOUT IRON YOUR BLOOD ALSO LOSES ITS POWER TO CHANGE FOOD INTO LIVING CELLS AND TISSUE and nothing you eat does you the proper amount of good—you do not get the full strength out of it. In fact sometimes the more you eat the more you starve, as your digestive organs are unable to handle much food when your blood lacks iron and you often think you have stomach trouble, when it isn't that at all. Simply eat less and take iron. There are 30,000,000,000 Red Blood Corpuscles in your blood and each one must have iron.

DON'T TRY TO "FOOL YOURSELF"

Iron starvation of your blood may be the cause of all your troubles. How to tell is explained in the accompanying article.

take organic iron like Nuxated Iron with them and at the end of that time see for yourself how much more strength, power and endurance you have. Nuxated Iron positively helps enrich your blood and put iron into it. It often increases your bodily and mental vigor in two weeks and quickly helps rectify your worst exhausted nerves. There is nothing like Nuxated Iron with good old iron to give you the courage, strength and force to fight the battles of life. NUXATED IRON is organic iron like the iron in your blood and not metallic or mineral iron which people usually take. The fact that you may have taken other forms of iron without benefit does not prove Nuxated Iron will not help you. Try it on our guarantee below.

Manufactured by Nuxated Iron is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not irritate the stomach. Each tablet of genuine Nuxated Iron contains 100% of the purest iron in the world and the words Nuxated Iron are stamped into each tablet, so that the public may not be led into accepting inferior substitutes. The manufacturer guarantees satisfactory results to every individual who goes to this trouble to eat more spinach and other iron-containing vegetables for two weeks and

If the busy rich people watched and rebuked the idle rich people, all would be right among them; and if the busy poor people watched and rebuked the idle poor people, all would be right among them. But each looks for the fault of the other. A hard-working man of property is particularly offended by an idle beggar; and an orderly but poor workman is naturally intolerant of the licentious luxury of the rich. And what is severe judgment in the minds of the just ten of either class becomes fierce enmity in the unjust—but among the unjust the poor look upon the rich as their natural enemies or desire to pillage their homes and divide their property. None but the dissolute among the rich speak in opprobrious terms of the views and follies of the poor.—John Ruskin.

Pipes Credited to Greeks.

The invention of the pipes is credited to the ancient Greeks, and a similar instrument to the Hebrew tribes. In the Fifteenth century the bagpipe was the favorite instrument throughout Germany. The first instruments were constructed from the hide of a sheep, and through holes in the side four pipes were thrust. One of them, the chanter, had holes similar to those of a flute, and was capable of reproducing a number of notes. The other three were drones and could sound but a single note. Little change has been made in the instrument through the centuries except in the matter of decoration and the range of tones that are identified with the harsh skirling.—Detroit News.

Real Sea Monster.

According to scientists of the Smithsonian Institute the record fish was captured at Miami, Fla., after a fight lasting 39 hours. Five harpoons and 150 bullets were required to subdue the monster. It was a whale shark and weighed 30,000 pounds. Its liver alone weighed 1,700 pounds.

MAGNIFICENT NEW COLUMBIA CROWDED WITH PATRONS FROM HOUR OF OPENING

From every angle the rechristening of the beautiful Columbia theatre was an unqualified success Monday. The attendance far exceeded the most sanguine expectations of Manager Fred N. Tynes, the opening picture, "Humoresque," delighted and thrilled the capacity audiences, the new $12,000 Wurlitzer organ was heard to a splendid advantage and the patrons were gratified over the decorative scheme employed in the theatre, and its perfect appointments. "Humoresque" is repeated again today and tomorrow to give all who wish an opportunity to see it. Manager Tynes is appreciative of all sides and he wishes it known that he deeply appreciates the many complimentary remarks made about this and that feature of the Columbia. It seemed as if the opening audience came to praise and enjoy a splendid picture and they were not disappointed. Many patrons went out of their way, many waited at the door to tell

Mr. Tynes in person just how much they appreciated what he had done in the rebuilding of the Columbia. Through his tireless efforts his picture house today is one of the handsomest in the state and a credit to a city many times larger than Portsmouth. Long before the first show last night a crowd that extended to the middle of Gallia street tried to get into the popular theatre. By 7 o'clock when the first show started the crowd had greatly increased and a line extended almost to Gay street. It seemed as if everyone was bent on inspecting the Columbia and to revel in its beauties. There was not a vacant seat at any of the shows yesterday afternoon or last night and the theatre now has a seating capacity of 3100.

Audience Delighted With the Theatre As the throngs poured into the theatre yesterday they were delighted with its arrangement. The soft, indirect light, which cast a friendly glow over the audience and enhanced the beauties of the frescoing and the stuc-work, the beautiful velvet curtain, the immense hanging baskets, which are an unusually attractive design, the aisles and seats and the roominess of the entire theatre are the features which the opening day throngs praised most fully.

There was not the slightest incident that would in any way detract from the opening and Manager Tynes, who has worked incessantly to put the Columbia where it stands today fairly beamed with joy last night as well-wishers clustered around him and told him how they appreciated his efforts to give Portsmouth a picture house of which it may feel proud. Every little detail looking to the comfort of his patrons has been looked after by Mr. Tynes. He knows the picture show game from the proverbial A to Z and he can be relied on to book the best features in the film world.

"I have the seating capacity, which I have long wished for and my loyal patrons are going to get the best picture made and soon after they are made," Mr. Tynes said last night. He was in an exceedingly grateful frame of mind and said that they would never be erased from his memory. Old and new friends unhesitatingly placed their stamp of approval upon the Columbia, its beautiful environment, convenience and comfortability.

Among the moving picture luminaries, who were present at yesterday's opening were Fred Steiff, manager of the Cincinnati Exchange of the Famous Players Jasker Production and A. J. McConnell, a special representative and Frank Cassidy, district publicity agent of the same company who had been here for a week assisting Mr. Tynes in the opening. Rudolph Knoeffle, Cincinnati manager of the Fox Film company and his district representative Harry Young, G. M. Skeer, manager of the organ department of the Wurlitzer company of Cincinnati and Wm. Simon and Otto Guth of the same company. Telegrams were received from Adolph Ziecker, Cecil DeMille, Vera Gordon, Gloria Swanson, Thomas Meillon and Wallace Reid, of the Famous Players Lasker Production, Hollywood, Calif., R. H. Haines, manager of the National Film company, Cincinnati, Mark Boldman, manager of Real Art Picture Exchange, Cincinnati and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hilton of the Sun theatre of this city, C. C. Little, Eddie Silvers and Wm. Rudge of Cincinnati.

Whale Meat Resembles Beef. The meat of the whale extends in great boneless masses in uniform quality, from the base of the skull to the tail fin. In appearance it is similar to beef, but is somewhat coarser in texture. Its flavor is said to suggest venison. One of the best "cuts" of the whale is the heart, which weighs 3,000 pounds.

HAD BAD COUGH AND PAINS IN HER LUNGS

Well now, gaining weight and strength—Does own work.

"Last September I took a heavy cold, I kept getting worse and finally I had pains in my bronchial tubes and all through my lungs. I had a bad cough, could not sleep at night, and was so sore through my lungs that I suffered almost a hundred times. One doctor told me I had a deep cold in the walls of my lungs. Another said I had bronchial trouble. He kept changing my medicine and burned me all over with electricity.

"I read in the paper about Milks Emulsion helping other people, so I thought I would try it. While I have only taken four small bottles, my lungs do not hurt me any more. My cough is gone and I have gained 4 pounds, and I am still gaining. I was able to do the first washing today that I have done since last September. In fact, I am now doing my work with pleasure and feel like it is a dream that I have my health again."—Mrs. Lida E. Sehlis, 672 Congress St., Toledo, Ohio.

Milks Emulsion is a pleasant, nutritive food and a corrective medicine. It restores healthy, natural blood action, doing away with all need of pills and poisons. It promotes appetite and quickly puts the digestive organs in shape to assimilate food. It helps build flesh and strength, and is a powerful aid in restoring and repairing the effects of wasting diseases.

This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL, NORTH MAIN ST., MT. AUBURN, CINCINNATI, OHIO

Graduates from this Hospital are in great demand and command excellent salaries.

One day the old Plymouth Rock rooster flew upon the fence in the barnyard and crowed out the announcement in his deep, far-reaching voice, that a banquet would be given Billy and Nannie before they started on their travels. It would be held in the meadow under the old oak tree down near the stream. Here is where the wind grew the thickest and where the water came bubbling and foaming over the stones crushing the mint and making the water sweet and spicy, like an ice-cream juice that people are so fond of.

He said that each and everyone who came was expected to bring something in the way of refreshments, so that his farewell feast might be one of which they could be proud. No matter if the grass in the pasture was dry and brown, they must each try to bring something else that was good to eat.

After this announcement, the hens clapped their wings and the animals their ears (in lieu of words), to express their satisfaction at the proposed arrangement and then, with an extra long, loud crow, the rooster jumped from the fence while Billy mounted on an old packing box and bleated his and Nannie's thanks for this expression of general goodwill, adding how sorry they both were to leave all their old friends, but promising to return some day with Billy Jr., when they would relate all the strange adventures they were liable to have and describe the different parts of the country they had seen.

That night there was a terrific thunder storm, and as they lay in their nice bed of straw in the shelter of the shed and listened to the downpour of rain on the roof, Nannie whispered to Billy, lying with her head hidden in his neck, so that she might not see the lightning, "Oh,

But in the morning came sunshine, and with it renewed hope that chased away the clouds of yesterday's doubts and he would have started that very day, but that he felt in duty bound to be present at the banquet that evening.

So this morning of the banquet Billy and Nannie rolled and rolled in a bed of clean, warm mud, until their coats were sleek and shining like satin, for they were to be the object of attention for all observers that evening.

(Tomorrow tells of the preparations for the banquet.)

Her Own Career

(BY PHYLLIS PHILLIPS)

THE PROMISE

Experienced dancers though they were, the entire company watched Gwendra's every movement, at her first rehearsal of the Lily. The dance was different from the sort of work they were familiar with but they seemed to be delighted with both the idea and the girl, judging from the exclamations of surprise and approval that were wafted to Gwendra all the time she occupied the center of the stage. Vassili beamed his complete confidence in her success, and told Gwendra in front of the company that she had a great future.

Of course there were ups and downs in the new work, and once or twice at the end of a particularly hard day's rehearsal Gwendra was more than half inclined to throw up her engagement and join the staff of John Neale's paper. A good night's rest, however, dispersed any doubts on her part, however, and she invariably awakened the next morning, refreshed and eager for the work before her. Dancing seemed to satisfy some primitive wildness that stirred deep down in her. The motions alone, in each dance were sheer joy to her and an outlet for her effervescent spirits. Everything else in life seemed tame, as compared with this.

At the end of the first week's rehearsal Vassili put her into an Arabian dance. She was the solo danseuse, and three wonderful boys of the company were her foils. The gorgeous costumes delighted the excited girl, and then, too, the honor, for it was a dance that one of Vassili's most famous dancers had always danced.

The sheers of purple gauzes, composed of fluttering tulle, of the costume, and a bejeweled stomacher of gold and flame veils her covering from waist to thighs. Ruby breast-plates, large and sparkling, were the sole adornments for the body of Gwendra, and a massive and jewel-encrusted bracelet was clasped about her right ankle when she danced. She had to get used to the drying of her body, for her skin was far too light to be considered Arabian, and the drying process proved most trying to her at first. But as it seemed to make her nakedness less apparent, Gwendra was pleased. Much did Vassili marvel at the beauty of his find, when first she appeared in the Arabian costume. And much did he marvel at the quickness with which she learned the dance itself.

"You were simply born a dancer," Miss Gwendra, he assured her, with tears of joy running down his face, as she dropped wearily into a chair after the tenth rehearsal of the dance, "and Vassili will make your name known far and wide if you will do all that he says. Ah, my little heart."

Gwendra became a universal favorite with the company, and grew to like these new friends of hers very much. They were such an honest bunch of artists. They were so genuinely in love with their work, and so free from all affectations. Simple-minded as children, yet complicated, as only slaves can be. The oldest of them could be reduced to tears over a torn frock just as easily as the youngest. And they lived to laugh.

"The patrons of this Lyric were given a surprise Saturday night following the first show when, with a sudden lifting of the screen, an attractive stage scene was displayed, into which was 'kicked' a surprise blackface comedian, well made up and costumed true to type. This added feature was probably a belated good-will offering of the management, as it was not announced in the advertising. Anyhow, Joe Callender, hailing from Portsmouth, O., proceeded to put on a 'whole show' in humorous bits of conversation, singing and dancing, with his own guitar accompaniment. He then gave an instrumental number and an encore on an instrument known as a steel Hawaiian guitar, which he handled with skill and by which he won much applause."

Do not have flowers or plants in the bedroom, particularly overlight. Poisonous gas is evolved from the colored parts of flowers both by night and day, and from the green parts in addition at night. Burying the Hatchet.
To bury the hatchet means to lay byones by byones. The phrase originated among the North American Indians, who were commanded by the "Great Spirit" when they smoked their calumet or peace pipe, to bury their hatchets, scalping knives, and war clubs in the ground so that all hostile thoughts might disappear. It was well-known that the presence of war weapons leads to war at times.

A HOME-MADE GRAY HAIR REMEDY

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy.

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary. Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 ounce of glycerine. These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—adv.

MUCH INTEREST IN SCIOTOVILLE REVIVAL

Rev. H. Stewart Tillis of the First Baptist church, brought a stirring gospel message last night to a full house at Sciotoville Baptist church on "Hallelujah, The Harlot, Saved Through Faith in the God of Israel."

He portrayed, very graphically how this present evil world is doomed and under the judgment of God, reserved for the eternal wrath of God to all eternity and by no way can she escape except through faith in the atoning blood of the Crucified Redeemer.

Much conviction was in evidence and at close of service the altar was filled with seekers and a number accepted Christ.

Services tonight at 7:00 o'clock. Sermon by Rev. Tillis.

A Simple Way To Remove Dandruff

There is one sure way that has never failed to remove dandruff at once, and that is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, just get about four ounces of plain, common liquid arvon from any drug store (this is all you will need), apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

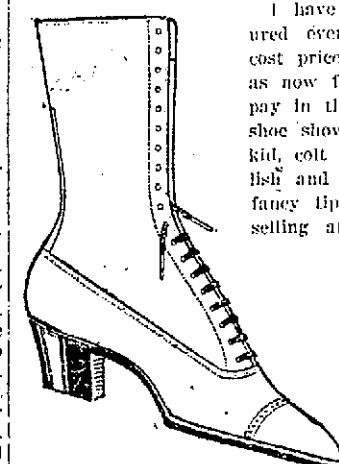

You will find all itching and digging of the scalp will stop instantly, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

OH MAN!

BY BRIGGS

McAdoo And Cox Forces

nor Cox people acknowledge defeat. To them the chance of nominating their man four years hence is just as good as it was in the earlier hours of the deadlock at San Francisco.

The situation has many contradictory aspects but it is obvious from what the writer knows of George White's personality that the men and women who signed the petition virtually saying here-e-your-bat-what's-four-hurry didn't know that the method they chose was about the last way to brush White out of office. He isn't of the retiring kind. He learned perseverance and persistence in the Klondike regions when he prospected perennially for the precious dust of that soil.

Of course, Mr. White intended to resign, and he is as anxious as anybody that the Next Chairman of the Democratic National Committee shall be a man of integrity and progressive views, a man who can give all of his time for the next four years to the resuscitation of a moribund political organization. When Mr. White was in Washington shortly after the election, the effort to oust him became pronounced but the chairman was unmoved and let it be known that he was planning to stay for awhile in his present position.

McAdoo Forces Control Committee

Now, however, the situation has changed. The McAdoo followers have quietly obtained control of the Democratic National Committee membership—at least they think they have a majority and therefore they want a meeting called at once. Should Mr. White decline to call one, the Cox followers are of the opinion that before many months are passed the Cox group will have regained control.

The alignment on the surface of course, is pro-McAdoo and pro-Cox but a deeper upheaval is in prospect. The coalition of all the Wilson forces including some elements who supported McAdoo and Palmer at San Francisco and some of those who supported Cox but who have always been identified with the progressive wing of the party is coming on the one hand as against the old Murphy-Nugent-Brennan forces and their allies who represent the wet element in the party and anti-Wilsonianism.

William Jennings Bryan represents an independent element which is more likely to be found against the wet element in the end than with it. In a nutshell, the fight has in it a desire on the part of the western leaders of the party and certain eastern progressives to form a partnership, choose a westerner for chairman of the national committee, and make the Democratic party a truly progressive instrumentality that will afford refuge to those voters in the Congressional elections two years hence or the presidential contest in 1924 may have come to the conclusion that the Harding administration was not progressive. The prospect of a similar progressive versus reactionary fight inside the Republican party is of course getting brighter every day. The whole situation even at this early date, is beginning more and more to resemble the era in our political history which came to a climax in the bull moose movement of 1912.

Old Man At 75 Feels Younger Took Hypo-Cod

It's A Grand Tonic, Said Mr. Johnson. Worth Thousand Dollars

SLEEPS LIKE BOY NOW

"When a tonic is strong enough to make an old man aged seventy-five feel younger and one hundred percent stronger and better all over it is certainly worthy a test by any one troubled like he describes below.

"I suffered a great deal with my stomach, bloating and indigestion pains. I did not dare eat boiled vegetables, etc., or even a piece of pie. I had to stay away from meat and was in extreme misery. I had just had the flu too and though I took two or three different kinds of medicine nothing helped me until I got Earle's Hypo-Cod.

"Now I have a splendid appetite. In fact, my wife is amazed at the way I eat and anything I want too. I'm eating like a wood chopper and although I used to be nervous and unable to sleep well I sleep like a boy again. No cases, bilious attacks bother me any more and I'm getting so young and spry again. I wouldn't take a thousand dollars for the good it has done me," declared Mr. Charles Johnson, 1307 East Main St. Columbus, Ohio.

Why shouldn't Earle's Hypo-Cod quickly put a person back on their feet feeling full of pep? It is powerful, pleasant tasting, molten and up-to-date and being made by the Earle Chemical Co., assures you of the finest quality in medicine. Drop in at the drug store tonight and read the formula on a bottle. Ask the manager about it or your family physician. Better still take home a bottle tonight and see how nicely and quickly it does the work.—Adv.

Wife Gets The Divorce

Dismissing the petition of the plaintiff in the divorce suit of Henry Fairtrace, shoe cobbler, 1926 Eleventh street, against Nellie Fairtrace, 1711 Timmonds avenue, Judge Stephenson in Common Pleas court Monday granted the defendant a divorce on her cross petition.

In the settlement of their property rights, agreed upon by the parties outside of court and approved by Judge Stephenson the wife received the home in which she resides at 1711 Timmonds avenue, together with all household goods and furniture, assuming all liens and she also assumes the support of their minor daughter, excusing plaintiff from any liability therefor and the wife is divested of all interest in all other property he may possess. Fairtrace is also to pay her $87.50 at once to cover expenses of the suit and other expenses.

They were married June 7, 1903, and the divorce was granted on the ground of cruelty.

Attorney B. F. Kimble for plaintiff and Attorney P. W. Moulton for the wife.

THE MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Extreme dullness marked the early operations on the stock exchange today, many speculative favorites remaining unquoted, gains and losses in no instance exceeding fractions. Mexican Petroleum, Royal Dutch General Asphalt, Sears-Roebuck, American Writing Paper preferred and Union Pacific comprised the firmer issues. Southern Pacific, selling "ex-rights," registered a lifting decline and Atlantic City, Westinghouse Electric and Pure Oil were moderately reactionary.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Raw sugar was quiet and unchanged early today at 3 1/2 cents for Cuban, cost and freight equal to 4.01 for centrifugal. Prices unchanged at 6.55 for fine granulated. Advice from Cuba indicating that sales there would probably be curtailed by a committee led to renewed buying in sugar futures and prices at midday were 15 to 20 points net higher.

Trading became more listless with the progress of the session, dealings during the forenoon falling to the smallest total for the similar period in several months. Stocks and equipments showed little change, despite indications of an approaching "open market" for those materials. Occasional activity was displayed by the oils, as well as Confidential Can, and some related specialties. Texas Pacific was the only railway issue to show even moderate activity and strength. Offsetting features included weakness in the food and rubber divisions, American Sugar, common and preferred, falling 3 points each. Conditions in the money market were unchanged from their recent monotonous course, call loans opening at 8 percent. Exchange on London made further recovery from yesterday's quotations.

Dealing in the stock market today were almost at lowest levels for any full session in several months, but the list strengthened appreciably as money rates eased. Sales approximated 375,000 shares.

GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Foreign selling had a bearish effect today on the wheat market. Reports were current that Germany was being supplied with Australian wheat on six months credit from England and that 1 July 1921 would be the date of the first payment on the purchase of cereal foodstuffs. Trade was light and the market easily influenced. Opening prices, which ranged from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower, with March 1.33 to 1.34 and May 1.33 1/2 to 1.34 1/2, were followed by a material further setback.

Corn declined with wheat. After opening unchanged to 1 1/2 lower, the market ended at 1 1/2. The close was strong, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, not higher, with March 1.01 1/2 to 1.02 and May 1.01 1/2 to 1.02 1/2.

Oats were steadied by weakness of receipts, starting unchanged to 1 1/2 off, with May 42 1/2 to 43, but some selling activity and the market easily influenced.

Commission houses selling on stop orders weakened provisions. The close was strong, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4, not higher, with March 1.01 1/2 to 1.02 and May 1.01 1/2 to 1.02 1/2.

New Boxing Commission Adopts Stringent Rules

The Portsmouth Boxing Commission has drawn up a number of rules and regulations that will hereafter govern boxing and wrestling exhibitions in this city. Some of the regulations are as follows:

No member of the Boxing Commission shall in any way be financially interested in any Club, corporation or association, holding boxing or wrestling exhibitions.

No boxing or wrestling exhibitions shall be allowed unless written sanction from the Commission has been secured for the same.

No club, corporation or association shall be permitted to conduct boxing or wrestling exhibitions unless duly incorporated under the laws of the state of Ohio.

Blank application forms for permits shall be provided by the Boxing Commission.

Before acting upon the applications for sanction the Commission may, in its discretion, examine under oath the applicants and other witnesses.

Should either of the participants in the main exhibition be unable to appear on the night for which he is scheduled, the organization holding the exhibition shall use a substitute, a new sanction will have to be obtained for the exhibition.

All clubs receiving sanction shall be held responsible to the Commission for all exhibitions held under such permit. Each club receiving sanction for a boxing exhibition must deposit with the Commission a certified check for $500 with the granting of the sanction, unless under special circumstances the Commission, by unanimous vote, or all its members, requires a larger or smaller deposit.

All contracts between clubs and their exhibitors must be approved by the Commission.

No person shall be admitted to a boxing or wrestling exhibition without a ticket.

All tickets issued to the Commission shall be marked "Commission", no member to have more than one such ticket.

No money will be received at the entrance doors for admission. All tickets must be obtained at box office or other places designated. The box office must not open later than 6:30 on day of entertainment.

Every ticket must be deposited by the ticket taker in a locked box which shall be opened only by an officer of the club holding the permit.

In all boxing, sparring or wrestling exhibitions, participants, referees, time keepers, seconds and examining physicians shall at all times be under the control and direction of the Commission.

No boxing or sparring exhibitions shall be held on Sunday.

No boxing signs shall be displayed in the hall.

No person shall compete in a boxing or wrestling exhibition in any club for which no permit has been issued. Violation of this rule will result in indefinite suspension for all persons connected with such exhibition.

No persons who appear to be under the influence of liquor will be admitted to the exhibition, whether holding ticket or not. The box office must refund money on admission tickets held by persons in such condition. If an intoxicated person shall be discovered to the hall it will be the duty of the management to eject him and refund his money.

Participants in the main bout shall report to the Commission not less than 24 hours before the exhibition is held and shall be examined by the Commission's physician immediately upon arrival; said physician to also examine persons in the preliminary bouts.

Unbecomingly conduct, such as use of vulgar, profane, or abusive language on the part of the spectator, club officials, participants or their seconds will not be tolerated. Club countenancing such conduct will be barred from holding future exhibitions. Coaching from the corners by seconds is prohibited under penalty of expulsion from the hall.

Each main event boxer must post with the Commission a check of $50 as a guarantee of weight and appearance and the faithful performance of his contracted duties. Should a boxer be disqualified for resorting to unfair tactics the entire forfeit shall be forfeited to the Commission and he shall not be paid for his services.

No boxer shall be permitted to give a sparring exhibition with a weight more than five pounds, or heavier than himself, unless otherwise approved by the Commission.

Exhibitions between whites and negroes are strictly prohibited.

The referee shall have general supervision over each exhibition.

No speech-making or introducing of boxers from the ring other than exhibitors will be tolerated.

Exhibitions shall be scheduled for not more than 12 three minute rounds, save at the discretion of the Commission which may grant 15 round bouts under certain conditions.

No boxer shall be permitted to participate in any main bout who has participated in any boxing exhibition four days prior to the date on which he is to appear in an exhibition sanctioned by the Commission.

No persons, other than the participants and referee shall enter the ring during the progress of the exhibition. Promoters will be held responsible for the boxers being on time.

It can be seen from these rules and regulations that boxing and wrestling exhibitions hereafter in Portsmouth will be on a much higher plane than ever before. The Commission consisting of Dr. George Martin, Dr. J. W. Hotchens, W. S. Harris, Edward Tenger and Hugh Hudley was appointed last week by Mayor Gableman.

Superior Teamwork

Superior teamwork triumphed over might Monday night in Wilmette hall when the Bigelow Specials won a 40 to 28 victory from the Scotoville Stars.

The visitors were good on long shots but they could not make enough of these to overcome the commanding lead taken by the Specials early in the contest. The first half ended 24 to 16 in the Specials' favor. The lineups:

Scotoville: Kinkor, L. Bush, C. Bush, Reinhardt, C. Flowers, Marsh, Dempsey for Kinkor.

Field goals: Monk 5, Flowers 10, T. Gordley 4, Schellner 1; Kinkor 2, L. Bush 5, C. Bush 5, Dempsey, Barber Referee, P. H. S.

DETROIT, Feb. 8.—Pat Moore of Memphis, won a newspaper decision over Carl Frensch, Cleveland, in a 10 round bout here last night.

Next summer, Hendrix said, he expects to pitch for semi-professional teams, in Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma. He is employed here now as a motor salesman.

To Make It Felony

ST. PAUL, MINN., Feb. 8.—A bill to make it a felony to bet on the outcome of a baseball game and another measure making a felony to give or offer a baseball player anything except his salary to win or lose a game, were offered in the Minnesota house today and referred to a committee.

P. H. S. AT HUNTINGTON FRIDAY

PENNY ANTE

Ladies' Night

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., February 8.—On Friday night of this week, Portsmouth High School comes to this city for their second brawl of the year with the Red and Blue of Huntington High. The game will be played at the high school gym, at 8 o'clock.

Just a few days past, Coach Wilson and his merry band invaded the River City, and what the Portsmouth livers did to "our boys" was a shame. The final returns showed 11, 11, S. on the small end of a 27 to 15 tussle.

This was easily one of the biggest upsets of the season, as Huntington expected to win without an effort.

But things will be different, very much different Friday night. Coach Wilson is getting tired of having his boys kicked around, and he figures that a shake up in the batting order will do the Red and Blue a little good. The whole community knows that it can do no harm.

The high school mentor indicated last night that "Red" Meade may get the call to start against the second Holy City cagers.

Britton Wins, Riot Averted

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jack Britton, world's welter-weight champion, defended his title against Ted Lewis in a 15-round match here last night. Britton won all the way.

Lewis had the better of the exchanges in the first two rounds, during which both contestants battled with tongues, as well as with their gloved fists. Britton protested against Lewis having a rubber protector in his mouth to guard his teeth.

When the bell had separated the men at the end of the second round, someone in Lewis' corner shouted at Britton, who turned quickly and rushed back to Lewis' corner, sending his gloved left hand into the face of Sharley Harvey, Lewis' manager. Lewis took a swing at Britton almost at the same moment, and it looked for a time as if there was going to be a free for all fight in the corner.

Referee Dick Nugent of Buffalo, stepped toward the men, who by this time had been separated by their handlers, and Britton returned to his own corner. One of the boxing commissioners who was at the ringside, decided that Lewis had a right to wear the rubber guard, and there was no more quibbling on this point.

From the beginning of the third round the champion got his clever left hand working in good shape, and he kept jabbing and looking it into Lewis' face, occasionally mixing these blows with a right to the head or to the stomach.

Lewis seemed unable to avoid Britton's bustling left hand in every round thereafter, except the tenth, during which he managed to land two telling lefts and a right swing on Britton's head. This round was about even, and with the exception of the first two, Britton had the honors in all the others.

Steele Hi Getting Ambitious

DAYTON, O., Feb. 8.—Offers for games with Steele high school are being received from many parts of the country as the result of the school's decision to play a football game with Duval High of Jacksonville, Florida, next season.

According to Coach Devan, negotiations had hardly been closed with the Jacksonville team, that dates were offered for games at Cleyburn, Texas; Phoenix, Arizona; Pennsylvania State College; and Endicott High of Union, N. Y.

The Cleyburn High holds the interscholastic championship of the "Lower State." It is likely that arrangements for a game with Endicott High will be completed, it was said by Coach Devan.

Volley Ball League

The Wolves sprung an unexpected surprise in the Business Men's Volley ball league when they dug their teeth into the Invincibles for three straight at the High School gym. Gilten and Baerman worked together like old pals slugging the ball to the corners in a way that sadly disconcerted their opponents. Jim rattled his forces as well as he could and they answered gamely to his call but did not show that unified team work which put them so high in the race last season.

The lineup were:

Wolves—Hagles, Clausen, Gilten, Baerman, Craden, Williams, Invincibles—J. Finney, V. Finney, J. Breese, D. Phillips, R. Marting and E. Shoemaker.

The Jinx of the Wholesalers has been broken at last, and they have won a 20-20 game. For the last five times, when the games went to 20-20 the Wholesalers lost, but this time they put it over. The Bankers, greatly strengthened by the addition of Buck, put up a hard fight throughout, though playing with only five men. But with Edwards playing a marvelous game at net and Howard's great better than usual, it was "Good-Night, Bankers," and they test all three by the scores of 21 to 12, 21 to 12 and 21 to 20.

The lineups were as follows: Wholesalers—Howard, Capt., Edwards, Means, Hays, Riekey and Reinhardt. Bankers—Erfurt, Capt., Buck, Uhl, McNamara and Brumby.

This announcement was made today by Fred Rickard, who said Leonard's manager has accepted terms for the bout.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Benj. Leonard, world's light-weight boxing champion, will defend his title next St. Patrick's day against the winner of a 15 round match between Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson, to be held in Madison Square Garden February 25.

This announcement was made today by Fred Rickard, who said Leonard's manager has accepted terms for the bout.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 8.—Jack McAllister is already in training preparing for his work with the Cleveland Indians, which will begin the latter part of the month at Dallas, Texas. According to McAllister he will go to Cleveland about Feb. 25 and leave the Sixth City the next day in charge of a group of pitchers and catchers who will begin work a week in advance of the main squad.

Industrial League Directors Planning For Season Of 1921

That the chances for Industrial League baseball in Portsmouth are very bright for 1921 was the unanimous verdict of five of the six directors who met at the First National bank building, Monday night, to discuss the plans for 1921.

The directors were very enthusiastic and readily agreed to place teams in the league and to do their part toward making the season of 1921 an even greater success than the one of last year. By a unanimous vote of the directors, President Dan W. Conroy appointed Messrs. John Underwood, Fred Lorey and William Bruch to confer with the Chamber of Commerce relative to arranging time or working hours so as to give the people of Portsmouth an opportunity of witnessing the games, which, as usual, will be played in the evenings and on Saturday afternoons at the Seventeenth street grounds.

The committee was instructed to get in touch with the Chamber of Commerce at the earliest possible opportunity, as it is planned to begin the season in May.

It will be pleasing news to the public to know the league closed the season of 1920 with not only a clean slate, but a nice balance in the treasury. This means the league will start the season of 1921 without the handicap of a big outlay of money. Of course, it will take considerable to place the grounds in shape, but the stands are up and the lumber and labor for their erection all paid for. It will be necessary to reconstruct the back stop, but that will be a mere trifle compared to what the league was obliged to pay last season.

All in all, the prospects for a very successful season are quite alluring and there is no question but the brand of baseball will be such as to draw enormous crowds. There was not a better connected league in the country than the Portsmouth Industrial league, which not only gave the fans of Portsmouth a high grade article of the great American pastime, but developed quite a few players, several of them will be given try outs as professionals in 1921.

The Wholesalers grabbed two from the Waltons last night, the Waltons managing to take the third contest by a close margin. There was high mark at the evening for the Waltons with a total of 594 while Roberts, anchor man for the Wholesalers, came through with a 560 total his 262 score in the second game helping the Wholesalers hang up more than a 100 pin margin.

The signed contract of "Speed" Martin, pitcher, was received today.

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Plans for a grammar school stadium with a seating capacity of 27,000 were ordered started today by Peter A. Mortenson, superintendent of schools. It is proposed to build it on an eighty acre tract on the westside, and a second one may be started on the southside later. Superintendent Mortenson said, "More athletic fields are needed, and more interest in school athletic activities should be taken. Mr. Mortenson told the school board. The stadium would be used for interschool contests and by teams from all city schools in all outdoor sports."

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jack Britton, world's welter-weight boxing champion, fought the 42nd battle of his career

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Claude Hendrix, spitball pitcher of the Chicago National League Club today was given his unconditional release. William Veeck, president of the club, announced. Hendrix's name was mentioned last fall in connection with a game between Philadelphia and Chicago alleged to have been "fixed."

Hendrix was scheduled to pitch against Meadows, and word reached the Chicago officials that gamblers had wagered heavily on the result. In an attempt to foil the alleged scheme, Grover Alexander was substituted for Hendrix, but Chicago lost.

Mr. Veeck said that this incident had nothing to do with the release, however.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Jack Britton, world's welter-weight boxing champion, fought the 42nd battle of his career

CHICAGO, Feb. 8.—Claude Hendrix, spitball pitcher of the Chicago National League Club today was given his unconditional release. William Veeck, president of the club, announced. Hendrix's name was mentioned last fall in connection with a game between Philadelphia and Chicago alleged to have been "fixed."

Hendrix was scheduled to pitch against Meadows, and word reached the Chicago officials that gamblers had wagered heavily on the result. In an attempt to foil the alleged scheme, Grover Alexander was substituted for Hendrix, but Chicago lost.

Mr. Veeck said that this incident had nothing to do with the release, however.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—Benj. Leonard, world's light-weight boxing champion, will defend his title next St. Patrick's day against the winner of a 15 round match between Johnny Dundee and Willie Jackson, to be held in Madison Square Garden February 25.

This announcement was made today by Fred Rickard, who said Leonard's manager has accepted terms for the bout.

FANCIES IN FIGURES

Many a moment can be whiled quickly away by simple exercises in mathematics. Given substantial figures and using a bit of information there can often be worked out combinations and elements that are decidedly interesting. For instance one reads that injunction suit has been brought to prevent the discontinuance of natural gas service to Cleveland. There are nine hundred thousand natural gas consumers in Ohio, with a greater number in Cleveland than any other one place.

Then what would failure of the gas supply to Cleveland mean to all the 900,000? Nothing other than that the commodity was running short and soon will be exhausted. Following which ever so naturally is the inquiry what is that failure going to cost in the way of a substitute made a necessity?

Well, first as a substitute would come artificial gas, next, probably, coal followed by electricity and water. Artificial gas would be used chiefly for cooking and lighting and to some degree for heating, but on an average its price has heretofore been three times greater than the natural, and to be sure it will not lessen any with the latter disappearing as a competitor. With this must be taken into consideration the fact that artificial gas has only one-half the heating power of natural. The comparative utility value is therefore one dollar to six. If it is assumed the disappearance of natural gas would cost the average consumer only half as much, or in other words, three times his present consumption, and that is only a dollar a month at present, the total increased cost would be over twenty million dollars for the 900,000.

With the disappearance of natural gas electricity and water are sure to grow in demand. In time the first is going to come in to general use for cooking and heating, quite as much so as it is now for light and power and water will be more commonly used for heating, through vast central plants, and, perhaps, also in time for cooking, as human ingenuity can ever be counted upon to devise new means of conservation and reducing costs.

And speaking of electricity and pursuing our "figuring" further, how little conception we ordinarily take of the vast energy this mysterious element produces now. Some one has found there are something over six thousand electric power plants in the country now. These produce twenty-five billion kilowatts of energy, thirteen million horse power, sufficient to drive the average passenger train, Pullmans and all around the earth twenty-six thousand times. Or enough light to make "A White Way" all around the globe and keep it dazzling continuously for something like ten years.

You may yourself figure what that energy would bring you if you had it stored and would sell it at the rate you pay for your home electric light.

Chasing The Birds Out Of The Air

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., February 8.—A thousand feet in the air a wedge of wild geese is winging southward over Barneget Bay.

Near shore a hydroplane leaves the water with a roar and begins to climb. Having reached the level of the geese it drives straight after them. The big birds are making perhaps 50 miles an hour, but the machine is doing twice that. In five minutes it is but 50 yards behind them. Their steady honking breaks into a wild melody of alarm. To them this thing is a terror. It is a hawk as big as a house and twice as swift as any bird that flies. It is a hawk that roars like the north wind. And then, suddenly, it begins to spit fire and flame, and two geese crumple in the air and fall to the blue waters far below.

The geese have been shot at before. In fact, they have been shot at all the way from Southern Alberta to New Jersey. The sound of a shot of range. And so they tower now, climbing on strong pinions a hundred feet straight into the air.

And the plane towers after them, roaring more loudly than ever. There are more shots and three more geese go hurtling toward the water. The survivors, honking in hoarse terror, fly away. Some tower, some plunge toward the water, some go north and some go south. The plane pursues one lone goose that happens to be in front of it. It kills him, and then descends gracefully to gather its prey.

Airplane Hunting Illegal

This is a scene the like of which has been enacted again and again in recent months, and it is one which has provoked the ire of game protectors. The Biological Survey here is especially aroused over the killing of wild fowl from airplanes, because the Migratory Bird Law, the enforcement of which is entrusted to the survey, specifically forbids the taking of wild fowl in that way. The survey has obtained several arrests and convictions, and it is ready to send men to investigate any case of such violations. This hunting in the air is a new thing, and the survey hopes to catch it before it has grown to dangerous proportions. It hopes to do this in two ways—by arrest and prosecution of offenders, and by appealing to the sportsmanship and self-interest of the hunters. For it is hardly fair to hunt birds by a method which leaves them no chance of escape, and it is hardly intelligent to hunt them by a method which has the effect of driving them clear out of the country. That is the immediate and striking effect of airplane hunting. The birds are not slow to see that they have an enemy which it is impossible to escape. After one experience of being pursued by a plane, a flock of wild geese or ducks will often leave that vicinity for good and all. A whole season of legitimate sport from blind and bent is spoiled for a few minutes of spectacular slaughter in mid-air.

The migratory bird law, which prohibits the shooting of wild fowl during their migrations northward toward their nesting grounds, has made American wild fowl more abundant in the last few years than they had been for decades before. Sportsmen in general have come to appreciate its value. They are now asked not to undo the good work by the use of a new and deadly method of invading the air, which has heretofore been the sanctuary inviolate of all wild fowl.

The hunting of birds from planes seems to have begun toward the end of the war when some navy hydroplanes on practice flights began chasing flocks of wild fowl, apparently for lack of anything better to do. The Biological Survey at once took the matter up with the Navy Department and the practice was stopped. But after the war a great many military planes were sold for small sums, and a number of manufacturers began putting popular priced airplanes on the market. The combined air-and-water craft especially has become a popular toy for young men with money, and its purchase and use seems to be almost unrestricted by law.

As a result, cases of hunting in the air have been reported with increasing frequency. They have come from the Atlantic coastal region, from the big middlewestern rivers, from California, in California a motion picture film was made of the shooting of ducks from an airplane, and it was subsequently suppressed at the request of the Biological Survey.

When Ducks Are A Pest

In California, too, was made the case attempt to justify the hunting of wild fowl from airplanes. California is one of the few places in the world where wild ducks and geese are so abundant that they sometimes constitute a pest. In some parts of California they devour the rice crops at such a rate that some measures have to be taken to kill them or drive them away. Every year the Biological Survey is besought for permits to hunt these ducks out of season in order to keep them off the rice fields. It has often appeared that those who applied for the permits were more interested in getting the ducks than in saving the rice. These self-appointed protectors of the rice fields decided that the airplane would be just the thing with which to chase the ducks out of the country, but the Biological Survey has not agreed with them. It makes the claim that the recent invention of the self-firing acetone flash gun has solved the problem of scaring the birds off the rice fields in the most effective and economical way. This gun is based on the simple principle that the mixture of water with a certain chemical makes acetylene gas. The machine is designed to drop the water and effect this mixture at regular intervals, the resultant gas being ignited by a pilot light. The gun is said to be simple, inexpensive and sure of operation. It will fire a shot with a great flash and bang every minute all night long if desired. And it has the great advantage that it scares away not only the ducks, but also the black birds, which do about half the damage, but which no one cares to hunt. So the airplane is not to be used for hunting, even as a protector of the crops.

STILL HUNTING LOST YOUTH

Since Juan Ponce de Leon, conqueror of Porto Rico four hundred years ago, soldier of fortune and companion of Columbus, felt his muscles stiffening with age, his eyes growing dim and his blood sluggish in his veins, men have had hopes of recovering their vanished youth. Ponce de Leon had heard of a fountain whose waters, it was said, would restore human youth and beauty to aged and withered men and women. He set out to discover this miraculous fountain in an age of general credulity and belief in imaginary and supernatural powers. Crisscrossing through and visiting most of the Bahama Islands, he continued West, and on Easter Sunday came to the land of flowers which he named Florida, landing on April 8, 1512, near the present site of St. Augustine.

He never found the mythical waters of perpetual youth, but the delightful land he discovered is still a favorite resort for those who would extend the period of their natural vigor.

What Ponce de Leon, the discoverer, sailor and soldier, sought in the sixteenth century, the medical men of the twentieth century are still after, some of them with an astonishing faith in their scientific experimentation. We have had serums and medicines and electric "baths" and appliances—a host of them—all to arouse the drooping hopes of those from whom youth and beauty have forever fled. But men and women continue to age and die, just as they did when America was new, even after following every medical fad. We have but one advantage over those in Ponce de Leon's time—medical science has learned many things which lengthen the lives of those who have put in peril the expectation of a natural old age by excesses, exposure, overwork or vice. But the ancient scriptural limit to one day's life prevails. The young continue to grow old, and the old to die.

WHO'S WHO

In The Days News

ROLANDI RICCI

SENATOR ROLANDI RICCI, new Italian ambassador to the U. S., is expected to arrive and assume his new duties in the near future. He was named to succeed Romano Camillo Romano, Avvocato, who returned to his country in November on leave of absence.

Like Baron Carlo Alliot, who was a first class senator of the Washington on a post in succession of Baron Romano Avvocato, Senator Ricci is a friend of Premier Giolitti. Indeed, Ricci was made senator in one of Giolitti's former administrations by royal decree, dated March 17, 1921.

Also, the first news of the appointment came from Torino, Giolitti's home, on Oct. 26, when it was also announced that Senator Frassati, the editor of the Giolittian paper, La Stampa, would succeed Gaetano de Martino at the Italian embassy in Berlin.

When it was first announced on October 1 that Avvocato had been recalled and would be succeeded by Alliot, many Italian-American papers started a campaign in favor of having the former recalled. These declared his popularity among Italian-Americans and emphasized the esteem in which he was held by the state department. In Rome the Italian press supported this opinion, instancing objections to Alliot's appointment, among them his pro-German sentiments. It is understood that for various reasons the latter would not have been considered personally at Washington, so the consular replaced his name by that of Senator Ricci, without paying much attention to the appeals for the retention of Avvocato.

Senator Ricci, aside from being a senator, noted for his science in debate and his art in oratory, a professor in the University of Genoa, whose works on commercial and civil law were known to experts all over Europe, won enduring fame by his work among the cholera-stricken people of Naples in 1911.

He was born in 1854, at Albenga, a seaport forty-four miles southwest of Genoa. As student and teacher he has always been associated with the University of Genoa, where he took his first degree in jurisprudence at the age of twenty, became lecturer on commercial law and was finally admitted to the faculty. He specialized in commercial, maritime and mercantile law, both Italian and foreign, and as his fame spread he had at one time or another most of the large shipping firms of southern Europe among his clients.

We have found nothing that can conquer Time. Death remains the natural end of man.

But now comes from a world center of medical science a declaration by Prof. Holznicht that "age is banished." Happy day if this were true! "Woman is rejuvenated physiologically and psychologically by the treatment I have devised," he says. Marvelous achievement! and vastly important—if true. Complexions have cleared, eyes brightened, wrinkles vanished under his new treatment, we are told, which is playing the feeblest of Reckgen rays over the happy patient.

So now in due time we may expect those physicians who fatten their bank accounts on every fresh medical fad to have their lives of pitiful seekers after youth and beauty and strength, contributing their dollars for the Holznicht-Reckgen treatment or fake variations of it, and later dying in despair as under the former attempts to escape the laws of Mother Nature. Some day, perhaps, we shall learn that we build a long life in youth or middle age by right living, not by medicine, and that when we have wasted it by wrong living there is no way to recover it under heaven.

Lenine Spills a Why or Two

Lenine has been talking and revealing himself. To Spanish social democrats visiting Russia he said:

"We practice the proletariat's dictatorship in the name of the minority because the peasant class has not yet become proletarian and are not with us. It will continue until they subject themselves—presumably about forty years."

To understand this remark we must know what the proletariat is that maintains a minority dictatorship in Russia. A proletarian, says the dictionary, which should be the constant reference book for every reader who cannot define all the words he reads, is "a member of the poorest class of a community: one who is without capital or regular employment; a person possessed of labor-force, and nothing else. Of such people is the proletariat composed. We have them in every community, the people who live from hand to mouth, who own nothing, whose intelligence is the lowest. In their name the Lenin dictatorship exists. The peasants are not included because they work regularly and consequently own something, though it be but little, and are not disposed to place that little and themselves wholly in the hands of the ignorant and penniless proletariat."

Then Dictator Lenin added this illuminating remark:

"The difficulty is that we have no industrial goods with which to pay the peasants for the goods we request from them, so must continue to print paper money. Wise peasants! They want value received for their product, and Lenin gives them that money." The collapse of the Lenin regime will come when the rent money he stole is exhausted.

New-York-Day-By-Day

BY O. O. MONTYME

NEW YORK, February 8.—Charlie Chaplin's recent visit to New York threw an entirely different light on this extraordinary young man, who is perhaps the best known youth in the world. In contrast to most cinema actors, Chaplin tried his utmost to keep out of the spotlight. Friends close to him say that he is actually ashamed and blushed when people discover him in public places.

Most of us think of Chaplin as the buffoon with buggy trousers, flapping shoes, trick mustache and ridiculous derby. He is in private life a very serious and melancholy. He is troubled by a great sorrow that few know about. Chaplin and his brother, Sid, were raised in poverty. The fight to keep the boys in school and clothe them properly, eventually broke down.

There have been exaggerated stories of his penurious habits. Once at a prize fight he attended a young lad fell in the ring and broke his neck. It was decided to take up a collection for the victim's mother. Money was thrown into the ring. There were many actors and sporting men there. The announcer would call out that he had so-and-so's check for $25 and another for $50. Finally the crowd saw Chaplin. "Cough up Charlie," he yelled. "You got more money than any one." Chaplin turned red, got up and left and there were a few hisses.

The truth is that Chaplin had quietly slipped bill after bill from a roll he carried and handed it to a friend to toss in the ring. The total amount raised was $950. Chaplin had furnished $500 of that amount without any one knowing it save his friend. The next day he sent a check for another $500 to the mother with the understanding that if she told who sent it he would stop payment.

In the memory of the oldest Park Row reporter there never was a more dramatic moment than when Charles M. Schwab's eyes filled with tears at the shipping hearing at which he denied a base imputation and told of the services he had rendered the government without charge. Said one of the old timers afterward: "Schwab is a regular he-man and is not given to tears but when he did I want to tell you that it raised a lump in my throat and every man in the room was wiping his own eyes suspiciously."

There is a slim young Venus who twice a day dives from the little stand attached to the Hippodrome ceiling into the tank on the stage. The other afternoon when she was hoisted to her dizzy platform she looked about and yelled in a frightened way to some stage hands. After a time, in which the audience became alarmed, the cause of her annoyance was made known. It seems that one of the bass fiddlers was chewing gum.

I yield to no one in my love for dogs but in defense of them something should be done about the window display on Fifth Avenue. It is filled with leather boots for canines and there is an assortment piled in one corner with a card reading: "Storm Boots." A celluloid tray is piled high with dog tooth brushes.
